Indexes

Dissertations & Theses, ProQuest Digital. Indexes doctoral dissertations and master's theses back to 1637. Most dissertations from 1997 forward are available in full-text.

PsycINFO. Abstracts and citations to the scholarly literature in the psychological, social, behavioral, and health sciences. There are over 3.3 million records in the database. Coverage is from 1806-present; there are less than 146 records with publication dates prior to 1890. The PsycINFO Thesaurus file within the database consists of more than 8,200 standard and cross-referenced terms derived from the print Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms, 11th edition (2007). The thesaurus terms are critical for advanced searching of the database. Cited references data available from 2001 forward.

PubMed (National Library of Medicine). Abstracts and citations to approximately 20 million biomedical literature items from MEDLINE, life science journals, and online books; approximately 5,400 journals published in more than 80 countries. Coverage is from 1950-present. MeSH (Medical Subject Headings) are critical for advanced searching of the database.

Web of Knowledge/Web of Science. Indexes over 1,950 journals from 50 social science disciplines, as well as 3,300 scientific and technical journals, and conference proceedings. Index is the online version of the Social Sciences Citation Index, Science Citation Index, and Arts & Humanities Citation Index. Coverage is from 1898-present. One of the key features of this index is the ability to do a 'Cited Reference Search'.

WorldCat. Indexes materials at the Mansfield Library and thousands of other libraries around the world.

Full Text Databases

The Cochrane Library. Includes independent evidence to inform healthcare decision-making, including systematic reviews, clinical trials, technology assessments, economic evaluations, individual clinical trials, and more. There are 130 under the heading Developmental, Psychosocial, & Learning problems, and 406 under Mental Health.

Mental Measurements Yearbook with Tests in Print. Includes both a comprehensive guide to over 2,000 contemporary testing instruments with test purpose, publisher, pricing, and edited reviews (Mental Measurements Yearbook) and a bibliography of commercially available tests with test purpose, publisher, in-print status, price, acronym, intended population, publication dates, and authors, etc. (Tests in Print).

PsycARTICLES. Full-text articles from the over 70 journals published by APA, the APA Educational Publishing Foundation, the Canadian Psychological Association, and Hogrefe & Huber. Most journals are covered from the initial volume and issue of publication of the journal.

PsycBOOKS. Full-text of over 3,400 books and 50,825 book chapters published by APA, as well as classic resources in Psychology and out-of-print titles. Includes the 8-volume 1,500-entry APA/Oxford University Press Encyclopedia of Psychology.

Psychiatry Online. Includes the complete DSM-V Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders psychiatric reference, journals, textbooks, practice guidelines, self-assessment tools, and medication handouts from the American Psychiatric Publishing, Inc.

ScienceDirect. Primarily scientific full-text articles from roughly 2,500 journals; roughly 170 Psychology titles. Database also includes some books.

SpringerLink EJournals. Multidisciplinary full-text articles from over 2,700 journals; 151 Psychology titles.

Wiley-Blackwell EJournals. Multidisciplinary full-text articles from roughly 1,500 journals; 70 titles are categorized under Clinical Psychology.

Select other full text databases include: Annual Reviews (reviews of research literature), Counseling and Therapy in Video (streaming videos for studying social work, psychotherapy, psychology, and psychiatric counseling), Psychology & Behavioral Science Collection (journals on emotional and behavioral characteristics, psychiatry & psychology, mental processes, anthropology, and observational & experimental methods), SAGE Online Journals (multidisciplinary), and Taylor & Francis Journals (multidisciplinary).

Locating Journals and Article Citations

If you are looking for a specific article (e.g., from a reference list) or a specific journal, the first step is to find out if the library subscribes to that journal, either online via a database or in print. Enter the name of the journal in the main search box on the library homepage, then choose Journal Titles from the Search In pull-down menu. This will show you if the library provides access to the journal in a database, in UM Print Holdings (paper copies), and or indicate that the library does not subscribe to the journal. If the library subscribes to the journal, be sure to check the dates of coverage that are available. If the library does not have a subscription to the journal you can request specific articles from the journal via Interlibrary Loan (<http://www.lib.umt.edu/ILL>). If the library only owns the journal in paper you can request that it be scanned and emailed to you via Document Delivery (<http://www.lib.umt.edu/Docdel>).

If you want to know what journals are highly regarded in the field of Clinical Psychology, one measure is impact factor. You can locate journals with high impact factors in the database Journal Citation Reports (JCR). For each journal you will see how many articles were published in it, how many times articles from the journal were cited, a one-year and five-year impact factor ranking, and additional metrics. Note that JCR does not cover all published journals. Also note that the increased sharing of research online via blogs, faculty websites, institutional repositories, etc., has led individuals to develop alternative metrics for measuring scholarly impact (e.g., <http://altmetrics.org/manifesto/>).

Managing Your Research: Citation Management Software

Citation Management Software can help you manage your research and format citations. You can use citation management software to: create your own personal database to keep track of your research articles, documents, websites, etc.; import citation information from a variety of resources into your database; automatically generate a bibliography in a variety of styles (e.g., APA, ASA, Chicago, MLA); and add in-text citations to a paper in a variety of styles. The two web-based tools the library provides are EndNote Basic and RefWorks. Find out more at: <http://libguides.lib.umn.edu/endnoteweb> and <http://libguides.lib.umn.edu/refworks>. The table below provides basic information to get you started.

| | EndNote Basic | RefWorks |
|---------------------------------------|---|---|
| Access | Via the “Databases, A-Z” link on the homepage. | Via the “Databases, A-Z” link on the homepage. |
| Capacity | 50,000 references; top 3,300 bibliographic styles | Unlimited references; 800 bibliographic styles |
| Set up an account | Requires the use of your official UM email address. Your password must include at least one letter, number, and symbol. No special code is required for off-campus access but you need to initially register for an account from an on-campus location. | Requires the use of your official UM email address. Off-campus access requires a Group Code that will be sent to you when you set up your account and can be re-sent to you if you send an email from your university account to refworks@umontana.edu . |
| Add citations | Manually under the “Collect” menu, “New Reference.” Export data from various databases, usually under “Export” or “Save Citations.” In some instances this is seamless (e.g., using Web of Science), in other instances you need to download the data and then use the “Import References” option under the “Collect” menu. | Manually under the “References” menu, “Add New” or via the “New Reference” button. Export data from various databases, usually under “Export” or “Save Citations.” In some instances this is seamless (e.g., using CSA databases), in other instances you need to download the data and then use the “Import” option under the “References” menu to add the reference data. |
| Organize citations | Use the “Organize” menu, “Manage My Groups”, to group references into folders by topic, project, etc. A citation can be placed in more than one folder. Folders can be shared with other EndNote Web account holders. | Select the “New Folder” button. A citation can be placed in more than one folder. Select the “Organize & Share Folders” tab to make changes. Folders can be shared with RefWorks and non-RefWorks account holders via email, URL, or in UM’s RefWorks RefShare area. |
| Find citations in your account | Use the “Quick Search” menu on the “My References” page. | Use the “Search” box. Citations can also be sorted in a number of ways such as by author, title, and journal. |
| Create in-text citations | Requires you to download the “Cite While You Write” plug-in for your computer that works with MS Word programs on PC and Mac applications. Find the utility under the “Format” menu – “Download Installers.” | Requires you to download a utility program to your computer called “Write-N-Cite” that works with MS Word programs on PC and Mac applications. Find the utility under the “Tools” menu. |
| Bibliography | Under the “Format” menu choose “Bibliography.” | Use the “Bibliography” menu or the “Create Bibliography” button. |
| Get help | Tutorials are available at http://www.youtube.com/user/EndNoteTraining ; “Help” menu and “Getting Started Guide”. | Tutorials are available at www.youtube.com/proquestrefworks ; “Help” menu. |

Keeping Current: Current Awareness Services

Current Awareness Services help you keep on top of what is being published in your research area, or by specific authors or in specific journals, by automating research practices. These services are provided free by most publishers and database vendors, and some search engines; often they require registration. You can select how often to be updated (e.g., monthly) and how, usually options are via email or a RSS feed. Here are a few details:

- Table of Contents Alerts. Receive an alert each time a new issue of a journal is published. (JournalTOCs is a website service through which you can sign up for multiple alerts <http://www.journaltoocs.hw.ac.uk/>.)
- Saved Search Alerts. Receive notice when new articles come into a database that fit your search query.
- Cited Reference Alerts. Receive notice when a new publication cites a particular article or text.
- News alerts. Receive alerts from newspapers, government institutes, etc.; anywhere you see the RSS icon.
- Google and Yahoo! Alerts. Set up a search query and have the results emailed to you.

Some RSS readers include: Feedly, Bloglines, The Old Reader, Reeder

Upcoming Library Workshops

Literature Review: Effective Searching and Writing Strategies. In collaboration with the Writing Center, this session will present a strategic approach to the literature review, including search techniques and writing strategies.

- Tuesday, October 1, 3:10-4:30pm, Mansfield Library 283 Student Learning Center

Manage Your Research with RefWorks. Hands-on workshop on how to utilize the bibliographic management tool RefWorks to organize your research, store citations, and create bibliographies.

- Tuesday, October 8, 3:10-4pm, Mansfield Library 283 Student Learning Center, or

- Saturday, October 12, 11:10am-noon, Mansfield Library 283 Student Learning Center

Data Management Plans. Join Scott Whittenburg, Vice President for Research & Creative Scholarship, and Mansfield Library Librarians to discuss tools, resources, and strategies for creating data management plans for proposals to NSF and other agencies. This workshop is part of the Faculty Development Office's Professional Development Series; RSVP at <http://www.umt.edu/fdoevents>.

- Friday, October 25, 1:10-2pm, Mansfield Library 284 Buckhous Room

Keep Current. Want to stay up-to-date on new research and trends emerging in your field? Find out about RSS feeds and Table of Contents alerts as well as saved searches and how to utilize these awareness services and database features to stay current in your research.

- Friday, November 1, 3:10-4pm, Mansfield Library 283 Student Learning Center

Registration is required to secure your enrollment and provide us with contact information in case of last minute changes: <http://www.lib.umt.edu/forms/workshops>. Walk-ins welcome if space is available.
