

Accessing the Wall Street Journal from the Library

The Mansfield Library carries the print version of the Wall Street Journal dating from 1889. The most recent two months are available in newsprint and back issues are available on microfiche - both are available on the first floor of the library. The library also has access to online Wall Street Journal content through Factiva dating back to 1979. Not all information published in the paper is available online - the content available on Factiva is primarily article text. For table-based and graphical information, such as stock and bond data, please refer to the print or fiche versions of the paper.

1st. To get to the Wall Street Journal on Factiva

1. From the library's web page (www.lib.umt.edu) select "Journals"
2. Type Wall Street Journal
3. Look for "Wall Street Journal. Eastern Edition", and click on "Factiva"

2nd. To get to the Wall Street Journal on Factiva

1. In Factiva, select the "News Pages" tab
2. Scroll down to Wall Street Journal section
3. Using the drop-down menus, select the date and section you'd like to browse
4. You can now view articles by clicking on the titles

3rd. Searching the full text of the Wall Street Journal on Factiva (1979-present)

1. In Factiva, verify that the "search" tab is selected
2. In the "Select Sources and Factiva Intelligent Indexing" section, click on "Source" next to the "+" sign. In the "Find a Source" section, enter "Wall Street Journal"
3. Click on the "Publication: The Wall Street Journal" and mark it as "currently selected"
4. Enter your search terms in the "Free Text" box
5. You can now view articles by clicking on the titles